On August 29, 2007, Governor Mike Beebe announced at a news conference that Arkansas is one of only seven states to receive a $13.2 million grant from the National Math and Science Initiative to improve the Advanced Placement scores of students. Exxon Mobil Corporation has invested $125 million to support this national initiative. The goal of the program is to increase the number of students scoring 3 or higher on Advanced Placement (AP) exams in math, science and English. The grant will be administered by a new non-profit foundation, Arkansas Advanced Initiative for Math and Science, Inc. (AAIMS). Ms. Tommie Sue Anthony is the President of the foundation. The University of Arkansas at Little Rock is the supporting partner. The Arkansas Department of Education and the Governor’s office were closely involved with the grant proposal and fully support the grant.

C-7 Consideration of Waiver of Mandatory Attendance Days - Little Rock Central High School

Pursuant to activities related to the celebration of 50th Central High School Anniversary, the Little Rock School requests that the State Board of Education grant a waiver for two (2) days of the required number of instructional day specifically September 24 and 25, 2007. The Little Rock School District and Central High Principal suggest that events and security surrounding the celebration necessitate not having students in classes during these two days. Many students will be participating in activities of the celebration. The waiver would allow students enrolled at Central High School not be required to make up the two days at the close of the school year.

Chair’s Report

Ms. Tatum welcomed new Board member Brenda Gullett and Justin Minkel, 2007 Arkansas Teacher of the Year, who will serve as a non-voting member of the Board for the coming school year.

Ms. Tatum reported visits to the Pine Bluff School District and the Harmony Grove School District. She noted that the pre-school meeting for Harmony Grove Teachers included a session for community and business partners at which Dr. Charity Smith was the guest speaker.

Ms. Burrow reported a visit to the Arkansas Leadership Academy Partners meeting. She noted that teachers and principals who have been participants in the Academy training program were most complimentary of the training received during the institute and they commented on the impact of the Academy in improving instruction and leadership in local districts.

- This year is the Department of Education’s turn to host the joint session of the state boards of education. He suggested planning toward the joint session being held in December.

Dr. James stated that a special Board meeting has been called for Monday, September 24, 2007, to convene at 9:00 a.m. at the Department of Education Building. Dr. James noted that conditions within the Bald Knob School District require the Department to assume immediate management of the District with removal of the superintendent and local school board. Action Agenda

Report on the Progress Concerning the Resolution of the Balance Owed to Arkansas Teacher Retirement System (ATRS) by HAAS Hall Academy, Farmington

Dr. Mary Ann Brown was recognized to present this report. Dr. Brown stated that HAAS Hall staff and ATRS staff have worked together and report agreement on all issues except one: that issue simply awaits data that is to be submitted within this week. Ms. Rebick noted that the parties have had one month to complete these issues, why does the Board not have a final resolution? Dr. Brown stated information from ATRS is that the parties have worked diligently and cooperatively to complete the process, which has taken more time to collect data than expected. Ms. Tatum asked for assurance that the final documents will be in place within the week. Parties responded affirmatively. Dr. Mays suggested that a final report should be forthcoming by the time of the special meeting on September 24. Ms. Tatum directed the parties to complete all issues with a report on September 24. Ms. Rebick asked about resolution of payments that may be due as a result of the data. Dr. Brown stated that payment had not been discussed. Ms. Rebick affirmed that payment should be forthcoming by September 24.

Dr. Mays moved to receive the report. Dr. Williams seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Request for Approval of 2007-2008 Arkansas Better Chance Grants – Round #3

Paul Lazenby was recognized to present this item. Mr. Lazenby stated that additional proposals have been received, subjected to the internal review process, and are recommended for approval and funding. Dr. Williams asked about two previously funded proposals that were recommended for decreased awards. Mr. Lazenby noted that those proposals advertised for students, but enrollments were less than anticipated, thus the amount of funds allocated should be decreased.

Dr. Williams moved approval as presented. Mr. Lawson seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration of Recommendations of Performance Levels for the Alternate Portfolio Assessment for Students with Disabilities for Science Portfolio (Grades 5 and 7) and for the Performance Level Descriptors for Special Education Alternate Portfolio Assessment for English Language Arts (Grades 3-8 and Grade 11), Mathematics (Grades 3-9) and for Science (Grades 5, 7, and 10)
Dr. Gayle Potter was recognized to present this item. Dr. Potter reported that special committees of practitioners reviewed these recommendations and they are in keeping with requirements of No Child Left Behind Legislation and the assessment system.

Ms. Gullett asked for a definition of portfolio. Dr. Potter responded that the portfolio assessment was an alternate method of determining student performance based on the content standards, but directed to students that have severe and/or profound handicapping conditions. Ms. Burrow asked if there was still a limited number of students that could participate in this type of assessment. Dr. Potter responded that the number of students participating was not limited, but at the present time, the number of students who can be counted as proficient on the alternate assessment is limited to 1% of the student population.

Mr. Cooper asked if there were public groups that will want to approach the board about lack of participation in setting of these standards. Dr. Potter indicated that the recommendations have been posted on the Web Site with the agenda and that she has received no contact about these recommendations. Ms. Gullett asked for additional information and will contact Dr. Potter or Charlotte Marvel at a later time. Mr. Lawson asked if there were a way to make these reports more brief. He observed that the documentation is contained in 114 pages, which is often very technical. Dr. Potter and Dr. James responded that such documentation is required by federal legislation, especially where handicapped students are involved.

Ms. Burrow moved approval as presented. Ms. Rebick seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Public Comment: Proposed Rules Governing the Use of Net Gate Receipts by Public School Districts

Dr. Bobbie Davis was recognized to present this item. Dr. Davis noted this rule is relatively short and is specifically linked to new legislation. Dr. Williams asked if the concept of net gate receipts was clearly defined and understood by schools across the state. Dr. Davis responded that with the wording in the rule, there should be a better understanding of the definitions. Dr. Mays commented that net gate receipts will not be administered consistently as long as schools/districts are allowed to determine what is subtracted before the revenue becomes “net.” Dr. Davis responded that the statute provides considerable discretion in letting local districts decide what is removed.

Dr. Williams moved approval for public comment. Dr. Knight seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Proposed Rules Governing the Arkansas Financial Accounting and Reporting System and Annual Training Requirements

Dr. Bobbie Davis was recognized to present this item. Dr. Davis reported that a public hearing was conducted and minor changes were made. An updated version was distributed. Ms. Rebick moved final approval as revised. Dr. Knight seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.
Consideration for Final Approval: Proposed Rules Governing the Athletic Expenditures for Public School Districts

Dr. Bobbie Davis was recognized to present this item. Dr. Davis reported that a public hearing was conducted and changes have been made in response to comments from the public hearing and written comments that were received. Dr. Davis reviewed recommended changes as compared to the document approved for public comment. Mr. Lawson asked about interpretation of Section 7.01 and depositing funds in the Activity Fund. He asked about funds raised by booster clubs to help support athletic teams. Dr. Davis responded that if those funds are managed through the school fiscal accounting system, they are to be deposited through activity funds; however, if the booster club manages its own funds and those funds are used to purchase equipment or otherwise enhance the athletics program, then those funds are not accounted for in the activity fund.

Ms. Burrow asked for clarification on funds that would be expected to go into the activity fund. Dr. Davis responded any money raised by school groups administered through the school. Mr. Cooper suggested that some additional clarification might be needed to more precisely define private funds. Dr. Mays noted that the legislation appears vague in defining such funds. Scott Smith suggested that the Rule cannot require private associations (booster clubs) to deposit their funds to a public institution like a school district.

Ms. Gullett asked about the process for removing a school from fiscal distress should it get classified as such as a result of activity funds. Dr. Davis suggested there would be no difference in treating a school classified in fiscal distress regardless of the condition that got them there.

State Representative Betty Pickett was recognized to speak to this rule. Ms. Pickett noted the difficulty of determining and reporting athletics expenditures and observed that some districts do not make such reports. Ms. Pickett asked for consideration of a better way to establish utilities expenditures and maintenance expenditures: hopefully reporting of these expenditures can be clarified for all districts. She commented about the procedure for calculating transportation costs: she stated this should be a simple calculation multiplying cost per mile times the mileage traveled. Additionally, Ms. Pickett asked for a uniform way to determine the number of full time equivalent (FTE) from which to determine coaching salaries.

Dr. Mays responded to comments by Ms. Pickett and noted that athletics expenditures are not included in the school funding formula, which was designed to provide adequacy. He noted that some superintendents take money from the adequacy funding and give it to the sports program. He affirmed that sports programs are not part of a school's adequacy responsibility. Dr. Mays suggested that audits of school funding should review discrepancies across district, consider transportation costs by using a transportation multiplier with miles traveled, determine a "headcount" on coaches, and audit funds spent on maintenance and utilities costs prorated to athletics programs. Dr. Davis noted that state auditors are required to audit athletics programs. and she suggested that it will take some time to get this process “up to speed,” and the Board should give that audit process time to work and give the Legislative Audit Division time to make a study. Dr. Davis suggested that reporting could take care of Ms. Pickett’s concern with transportation and it would be possible to get the FTE from current reporting.

Ms. Gullett asked if other extracurricular activities would be held to the same scrutiny as athletics. Dr. Davis responded that it was the ultimate intent, but not prescribed in the current legislation.

Dr. Mays again asked about transportation costs and making all districts subject to the same formula. He noted that such a requirement for computing and reporting transportation expenditures would be a step toward consistent data across all districts in the state. Dr. Davis noted that some districts have their own formula for determining transportation costs and prefer their structure.

Mr. Cooper suggested that the Board give schools a year to work with the Rule and for Legislative Audit to make recommendations. Mr. Cooper asked for an interpretation of time an athletic coach spends teaching physical education. Dr. Davis responded that physical education is not considered part of the athletics program and physical education teachers are not counted toward FTE for coaching. Mr. Cooper also asked about the legality of requiring local school boards to make or validate reports as contained in Section 6.0. Dr. Davis responded that legally local boards should have such authority.

Dr. Williams stated that he “appreciates” the need for transparency with computing and reporting athletics expenditures. He asked if the rule is amended to include some of the comments being considered if an additional comment period should be considered. Scott Smith opined that most of the comments under consideration were made during the comment period, some were just not written in proposed revisions; thus, further comment is not necessary.

Dr. Davis reviewed the suggested amendments:
- 3.03 clarify definition of private donation expenditure
- 4.06 revert back to original approved in version for public comment
- 6.01 include both local school district and local school board as being responsible
- 7.01 add private donations made directly to district required to be reported in activity fund

Mr. Lawson moved final adoption with the above amendments. Ms. Burrow seconded the motion.

Dr. Mays moved to amend the motion to include the following:
- Compute transportation costs by computing actual mileage traveled times common multiplier unless a district establishes a formula that will support greater expenses
• Add the computation of Full-Time-Equivalent (FTE) for coaches to reporting requirement.

Dr. Williams seconded the amendment. The amendment was adopted on a roll-call vote 7 yes, 1 no (Gullett voted no).

The amended motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Proposed Rules Governing the Funding of Public Schools

Dr. Bobbie Davis was recognized to present this item. Dr. Davis stated that comments were received and considered in presenting the rule for final approval. Ms. Rebick moved final approval as submitted. Dr. Mays seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Proposed Rules Governing the Calculation of Miscellaneous Funds

Dr. Bobbie Davis was recognized to present this item. Dr. Davis stated that no comments were received during the public comment period.

Dr. Williams moved final approval. Ms. Rebick seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Rules Governing Waivers of the Earnings Limitations under the Teacher Retirement System

Beverly Williams was recognized to present this item. Ms. Williams stated that a letter was sent to school districts from the Arkansas Teacher Retirement System (ATRS) describing the condition that must be met – less than 30 years of unfunded teacher liability – before the rule as written could be implemented. Ms. Rebick noted that the Board will pass a rule which cannot be implemented. Dr. James commented that the Department and the Board must continue to work to get this option available to the Department in order for the Department to take advantage of the talent and valuable resource pool in recently retired individuals. Mr. Lawson asked how the Board could be of help in implementation of the Rule. Dr. James suggested that additional legislation will be required.

Ms. Rebick moved final adoption. Mr. Cooper seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Rules Governing the Distribution of Student Special Needs Funding and the Determination of Allowable Expenditures of those Funds

Dr. Bobbie Davis was recognized to present this item. Dr. Davis reviewed proposed revisions being suggested as a result of comments made during public review. Ms. Burrow asked about the consideration required under Provision 2. Dr. Davis noted that Provision 2 is a special category in the free and reduced lunch program. A district establishes a base one year then for the next four years that district does not take additional applications for free and reduced lunch program. She stated that under the NSLA rule the free and reduced lunch number is the basis for funding.

Ms. Rebick stated reservations about flexibility of local districts for use of funds, especially when the district is classified in fiscal distress. Dr. Davis stated that the rule provides some flexibility, even when a district is classified in fiscal distress. Ms. Rebick stated her disagreement with that flexibility in the rule.

Former state representative Jody Mahoney stated that the Bureau of Legislative Research formed a section within that office to review rules and provide comment and as a result the legislative process should be more cognizant of these rules before they are presented for legislative review. Mr. Mahoney stated that there is a disagreement within the Bureau regarding transitional funding as defined in the rule. He noted that the legislative staff and Department will need to work together before the next session to determine if further revisions are needed with the NSLA funding.

Dr. Mays asked for clarification within the rule for hiring additional teachers to reduce ratios, but would not allow for increase in the overall salary schedule for teachers.

Ms. Gullett stated that there is a danger that programs funded under the rule may pay salaries of teachers over improving instruction in high-needs schools.

Mr. Cooper moved approval as proposed. Dr. Williams seconded the motion. The motion was adopted on a voice vote 7 yes and 1 no (Rebick voted no).

Consideration for Final Approval: Proposed Rules Governing the Final Close of Public School Financial Records

Dr. Bobbie Davis was recognized to present this item. Dr. Davis stated that no comments were received regarding this rule; thus, no changes are proposed.

Mr. Cooper moved final approval. Dr. Mays seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Rules Governing Eligibility and Financial Incentives for Arkansas Leadership Academy Master Principal Designation

Beverly Williams was recognized to present this item. Ms. Tatum asked what happened to additional funding for principals who were recognized with master principal designation after the initial five years of additional salary. Ms. Williams responded that no additional funding is available – five years is the end of the bonus.

Ms. Gullett moved final approval. Ms. Burrow seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Rules Governing Waivers for Substitute Teachers
Beverly Williams was recognized to present this item. Ms. Williams reported that comments were received, but no revisions are recommended. Ms. Rebick asked about substitute teachers who fill in for a period greater than 32 consecutive days. Ms. Williams responded that legislation was needed to clarify the conditions where some districts were moving individuals in and out periodically to avoid the number of days. This legislation and the rule close the loophole some districts were using.

Mr. Lawson moved final approval. Dr. Knight seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Rules Governing the Lifetime Teaching License

Beverly Williams was recognized to present this item. Ms. Williams reported that no comments were received and no one attended the public hearing. Dr. Mays asked if there was no experience requirement. Ms. Williams responded that an eligible teacher must meet current licensure requirements. Ms. Gullett noted that most teachers would like to be eligible for lifetime license upon retirement, not at age 65. Ms. Williams noted that age 65 is a requirement of the law.

Dr. Knight moved final approval. Ms. Burrow seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Rules Governing Parental Notification of an Assignment of a Non-Licensed Teacher to Teach a Class for More than Thirty (30) Consecutive Days and for Granting Waivers.

Beverly Williams was recognized to present this item. Ms. Williams reported that no comments were received and no one attended the public hearing. Mr. Lawson asked about consistency of wording in designating the responsible party – district, board, superintendent. Dr. James stated that the local superintendent must sign a statement of assurances and there is a penalty – removal of license – for not reporting accurate and timely information. Mr. Lawson suggested: “Amend Section 5.02 (F) to read, “The superintendent of any school district that obtains a waiver shall send written notice of the assignment of a non-certified licensed teacher to the parent or guardian of each student in that classroom no later than thirty (30) school days after the date of the assignment.” This revision places emphasis on the responsibility of the superintendent to carry out the requirement of this section.”

Mr. Cooper moved final approval with recommended change as stated. Mr. Lawson seconded the motion. The motion was adopted on voice vote of 7 yes, 1 no (Rebick voted no).

Consideration for Final Approval: Rules Governing Eligibility of Participating School Districts in the Traveling Teacher Program
Beverly Williams was recognized to present this item. Ms. Williams stated that comments were received, but no revisions to the previously proposed rule are suggested.

Mr. Lawson moved final approval. Mr. Cooper seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration for Final Approval: Arkansas Department of Education Rules and Regulations Governing Home Schools

Dee Cox was recognized to present this item. Ms. Cox reported those attending the public hearing were supportive of the rule and suggested no comments.

Dr. Knight moved final approval. Mr. Cooper seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration of State Board of Education Travel Guideline

Dr. Williams was recognized to present this item. Dr. Williams stated that a committee was formed to review guidelines pertaining to travel associated with the Board’s membership in the National Association of State Boards of Education (NASBE). Mr. Lawson asked if similar guidelines might apply to Board travel pertaining to other panels or organizations. Dr. Williams noted that most of the organizations such as SREB that invite Board member participation generally pay for travel. Ms. Rebick stated that travel to attend meetings for conferences that does not require reimbursement should not need review and approval. Mr. Cooper stated it was his understanding that the proposed guidelines address travel to NASBE and they should be adopted as presented.

Mr. Cooper moved approval as presented. Dr. Mays seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Consideration of Representation at the NASBE Annual Meeting

Ms. Tatum reported that MaryJane Rebick indicated interest in attending the NASBE annual conference in Philadelphia on October 11-13. No other Board members expressed the intent to attend.

Report

Richard Schoe was recognized to address the Board. Mr. Schoe commented on: 1) Request “Bully” policy be amended and made all-inclusive, covering adult-adult, adult-child; child-adult and child-child relationships. 2) Request that when Child and Family Services lists a teacher on the Central Registry that there be a process to recognize this action and guidelines to evaluate the potential impact on the students in the classroom. Suggest Day Care Licensing Guidelines as a model.

Mr. Mays suggested that the Board have a future discussion regarding athletic spending rules once additional information is received from the legislative audit.
procedure regarding maintenance and utility expenditures. He suggested such a discussion be scheduled at least annually as an agenda item to match school records with what audits show. Dr. Williams concurred at least for next year.

Mr. Lawson moved adjournment. Mr. Cooper seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

The meeting adjourned at 12:30 p.m.

The Minutes were recorded and reported by Dr. Charles D. Watson.

Mary Ann Brown was recognized to present this report. Dr. Brown introduced Mindy Looney representing the Arkansas Teacher Retirement System (ATRS) who affirmed that full agreement has been reached between the ATRS and HAAS Hall Academy and that a payment of the total amount of restitution funds was received. She confirmed that HAAS Hall Academy has no additional outstanding obligations to ATRS.

Ms. Rebick inquired as to the source of funds used to make the payment. Dr. Martin Shoppmeyer responded that the payment was made using carry-over funds from last school year and new award funds from the current operating budget.

Mr. Lawson moved to accept the report as presented. Dr. Williams seconded the motion. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Action Agenda

Dr. Ken James opened the discussion of this item with a PowerPoint presentation detailing the financial status of the Bald Knob School District. Dr. James noted that the data presented were also presented to a community meeting in Bald Knob prior to the State assuming fiscal administration of the district.

Scott Smith reviewed the steps taken by the Department of Education in filing the petition for annexation of the district to another district due to the financial status of the Bald Knob School District. He stated that all preceding actions were complete that would allow the Board to take action based on the petition. Mr. Smith also outlined the process that the hearing would follow. Mr. James Staggs, former superintendent of the Bald Knob District (retired), was introduced as the interim superintendent. Scott Smith referenced a letter from the Attorney General, which recapped any potential negative impact that the proposed action might have on pending desegregation within the Bald Knob District or any other district that might be involved in an annexation.

Dr. Bobbie Davis reviewed the financial status of the Bald Knob District and the districts that are contiguous to the Bald Knob District. Dr. Diana Julian reviewed the school improvement status as defined by No Child Left Behind and Frank Wimer presented the accreditation status of each of the districts.

James Staggs was recognized to report progress of the district since August 22, 2007. At the conclusion of Mr. Staggs' comments he recognized Mr. Larry Kirchner, president and CEO of Citizens State Bank of Bald Knob who affirmed that citizens of the Bald Knob District had raised in excess of $1.5 million, which is on deposit in Citizens State Bank. Mr. Staggs concluded his presentation with a listing of proposed cuts, reductions and other cost saving measures that are being implemented and will be carried out over the next two years. He stated that his projection is for a possible surplus of $400,000 at the end of the current fiscal year. He appealed for the Board to allow the Bald Knob District to work through these financial issues and to continue to exist as an independent school district.

Superintendents from each of the five contiguous districts, Augusta, Bradford, Midland, Riverview and White County Central spoke and cited cautions about annexing the larger Bald Knob District with a smaller district.

Questions and discussion focused on further affirmation that the district is now headed in a positive direction financially and that it is possible to end the fiscal year with an operating balance. Dr. Davis responded that there are no guarantees, but Department staff members work almost daily with Mr. Staggs on budget issues and pursue strategies for implementing the outlined cost-saving strategies.

Mr. Lawson moved to allow the Bald Knob District to remain independent under state supervision. Mr. Cooper seconded the motion.

Dr. Williams asked to consider an amendment to the motion that provides additional timelines and conditions. Other Board members raised issues related to staffing in the administrative area, passage of the proposed sales tax, audit of school books by Legislative Audit, and other options to total district annexation such as dividing up the district and annexing to multiple districts.

Dr. James provided the following summarizing statements:
- Commended the community for raising over $1.5 million
- Mr. Staggs is working most cooperatively with Department staff in implementing cost-saving measures including staff reductions
- Community proposed a $0.02 sales tax devoted to school debt repayment which has a potential revenue income of $176,000 this year
- Potential for budget to have up to $400,000 excess by end of the current fiscal year if all options come together as planned.

Dr. James proposed, that given the current status of potential revenue and cost-saving measures presented, to allow the district to retain its classification in fiscal distress and continue to operate until after the sales tax election in November; then, place an item on the December Board agenda that would report on the tax proposal, provide an update on cost-saving implementation, and report on budget projections at that time. He suggested that the Board could consider additional action in December.

Mr. Lawson and Mr. Cooper agreed to the conditions outlined by Dr. James. The motion was adopted unanimously on a roll call vote.

Dr. Mays asked for the Bald Knob District to provide a break down on facilities cost for instructional space as compared to space for athletics events in the new facility.

The meeting adjourned at 11:20 a.m.

These minutes were recorded and reported by Dr. Charles D. Watson

XI. Minority Recruitment of ADE Staff

The MRC met on April 4, 2007 at the ADE. Demographic reports were presented that showed ADE employees grade 21 and above by race and section as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2007. A spreadsheet was handed out that showed for grade 21 and above the number and percentage of black, white, and other race employees in each unit of the ADE. It was agreed that a report should be developed that will show units that are less than fifteen percent black who have five or more employees. The reports show that for ADE employees grade 21 and above the percent black has decreased. There was discussion about the reasons for this and ways to increase the recruitment of minority employees.

XII. School Construction

Discussed the ACSIP rubric and how it is used to approve the building plans. Emphasis was placed on instructional activities, Federal program spending, school improvement status, responsibilities for Rose City and Lynch Drive and data input. Additional dates were set to conduct presentations for building staff. On August 21, 2007, ADE staff attended a meeting with the new director of Federal programs and the Title I coordinator at the PCSSD Central Office. Emphasis was placed on instructional activities that focus on improving weaknesses as identified by the supporting data, Federal programs and curriculum issues. On August 28, 2007, ADE staff attended a meeting with the deputy superintendent, the director of secondary education, secondary principals, building ACSIP coordinators and the district learning services department at the Fuller Annex in the PCSSD. Teams worked on interventions and ideas for ACSIP.</td>

<td>XVII. Data Collection</td>
<td>The ADE Office of Public School Academic Accountability has released the 2006 Arkansas School Performance Report (Report Card). The purpose of the Arkansas School Performance Report is to generally improve public school accountability, to provide benchmarks for measuring individual school improvement, and to empower parents and guardians of children enrolled in Arkansas public schools by providing them with the information to judge the quality of their schools. The Department of Education annually publishes a school performance report for each individual public school in the state, and distributes the report to every parent or guardian of a child in kindergarten through grade twelve (K-12) in the public schools of Arkansas. The annual school performance report is based on reliable statistical information uniformly required to be collected and submitted by each local school district to the department and published in a format that can be easily understood by parents or guardians who are not professional educators and distributed to the parents or guardians of children enrolled in the public schools via the postal service. Individual school reports are also made available via the Internet. Statistical information in the Arkansas School Performance Report is organized into the following seven essential accountability indicators: 1: ACHIEVEMENT, 2: ACCESS, 3: RETENTION, 4: DISCIPLINE, 5: DEMOGRAPHICS, 6: CHOICE, 7: ECONOMIC.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>XVIII. Work with the Parties and ODM to Develop Proposed Revisions to ADE’s Monitoring and Reporting Obligations</td>
<td>On July 10, 2002, the ADE held a Desegregation Monitoring and Assistance Plan meeting for the three school districts in Pulaski County. Mr. Willie Morris, ADE Lead Planner for Desegregation, presented information on the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001. A letter from U.S. Secretary of Education, Rod Paige, was discussed. It stated that school districts that are subject to a desegregation plan are not exempt from the public school choice requirements. “If a desegregation plan forbids the school district from offering any transfer option, the school district should secure appropriate changes to the plan to permit compliance with the public school choice requirements”. Schools in Arkansas have not yet been designated “Identified for Improvement”. After a school has been “identified for Improvement”, it must make “adequate yearly progress”. Schools that fail to meet the definition of “adequate yearly progress”, for two consecutive years, must provide public school choice and supplemental education services. A court decision regarding the LRSD Unitary Status is expected soon. The LRSD and the NLRSD attended the meeting. The next meeting about the Desegregation Monitoring and Assistance Plan will be held in August, 2002, after school starts.</td>

The Arkansas Department of Education

Five-Year Evaluation Report:

Arkansas Regional Education Service Cooperatives

July 2007

Conducted for the Arkansas Department of Education
#4 State Capitol Mall
Little Rock, AR 72201

Charles D. Watson, Ed. D.
Associate Professor
University of Central Arkansas
Executive Summary
Arkansas Regional Service Cooperatives
Five-Year Report: July 2007
Prepared by Dr. Charles D. Watson

The network of Arkansas Regional Service Cooperatives was created by the Arkansas General Assembly in 1985 and since that time fifteen centers have provided support for Arkansas' public schools, the administrators and teachers who work in those schools, and direct services to many pre-school and school age students. Arkansas Code Annotated § 6-13-1021 summarizes the statutes with amendments to the original authorization that provide for an evaluation study and review of each center every five years.

Dr. Charles Watson, former employee with the Arkansas Department of Education, was responsible for structuring the self-study that was conducted at each of the fifteen regional service cooperatives and assimilating a visiting committee, conducting the on-site visit, and preparing the summary report for each of the fifteen site visits. This Executive Summary provides a brief overview of the study conducted at each site during the spring of 2007. The full report containing recommendations for each cooperative is attached.

The reader is directed to the data table following the Summary, which presents numerical facts reflective of the basic services provided and the impact of professional development and direct services provided to pre-school children. Each cooperative has a common set of services including professional development for administrators and teachers; cooperative purchasing; media services; supervisory services for technology, special education, psychological evaluation, math/science/literacy coaching, and gifted and talented; services to special needs pre-school children; and support for career and technical education programs.

Annually, each cooperative conducts a needs assessment that helps the staff set priorities and to identify areas of work that should be included in programming for the coming year. As a result of these assessments new areas of work are established as the need is determined. The management of the cooperatives continually seek new and innovative ways of providing services and meeting the needs of the educators in the service territory. Travel time and time away from instruction during the school day continue to be challenges for providing high-quality professional development. Many cooperatives now provide sessions throughout the summer and school year via distance learning, which allow participants to minimize travel time but still fully participate.

The cooperatives demonstrate a collaborative attitude for working with the Arkansas Department of Education in implementing various educational endeavors. This spirit of cooperation is seen through the implementation of Smart Start, Smart Step and Next Steps. Additionally, some Department of Education staff members are housed in regions to afford state-level service closer to schools served by Department staff.
The spirit of collaboration and shared responsibility is visible as individual cooperatives initiate programming and invite participation from other areas of the state. Examples of such work includes formative assessments in which cooperatives come together and share development and implementation costs to create formative assessments and train teachers across the state to effectively use such assessments as a key component of the instruction process. Another area of collaboration is shared distance learning for high school students. Various cooperatives initiate distance learning courses and provide those courses to other sites across the state. These courses supplement the regular instructional program for students and in many cases provide required instruction in one or more of the required 38-units as outlined in Accreditation Standards for Arkansas Public Schools. These examples are not the only areas of collaborative programming.

Each program and each professional development session provided by the cooperatives is independently evaluated. These evaluations allow participants the opportunity to anonymously comment on a session’s value. A review of those evaluation reports, almost without exception, note user satisfaction with the program offering often with suggestions for additional training needs.

Areas for consideration and review resulting from observations by the visiting committee(s):

- Since the initial authorizing legislation was passed by the Arkansas General Assembly and the network of regional service cooperatives was created, minimal restructuring has taken place. During this time significant shifts have occurred in student enrollment in several regions of the state. Enrollment across the Arkansas Delta has decreased, while enrollment in the Northwest corridor has significantly increased. Act 60 of 2003 reduced the number of local school districts through annexation and consolidation. Throughout these shifts in demographics, the structure of the regional service cooperatives has remained virtually unchanged.

- Among the education community, the cooperatives have high visibility and recognition for the work they do; however, many business and professional members of the visiting teams suggested communities are not generally aware of the work of the cooperatives and the overall contribution to support public schools and educators in the region served.

- A very small percentage of the overall operational budget of each regional service cooperative is based on the state funding allocation for each cooperative. As much as 94% of some budgets depend on state, federal, or private grant funding. Thus annually, staff members must write new grants and/or develop evaluation reports and submit continuation applications. Staff members hired to work in grant-funded programs are always subject to reduction in force when or if such funding is no longer available. Most cooperative directors affirm that the grant funding structure has not significantly impacted the ability to hire and retain highly qualified staff.

- There is a major difference in fiscal facilities at locations throughout the state. At this point at least three regional centers are housed in facilities previously vacated by local districts or in buildings lacking space to maximize services provided. Efforts to keep those centers visually and structurally viable do not diminish the need for alternate facilities. This report affirms a verbal report made to a joint meeting of cooperative directors and teacher center coordinators challenging directors to work together to share ideas for funding of facilities and for newer staff members to utilize the talent, expertise and leadership of those with longer tenured service as a way of planning for meeting the facilities needs in those identified areas.

Without question, the visiting team members for each of the fifteen sites strongly affirmed that each regional service cooperative met or exceeded the legislative requirements as set forth in statutes; each entity was staffed with a cadre of highly qualified professionals who are committed to improving student performance; and services provided are critical for most local school districts and their faculties to meet state accreditation and professional licensure standards.

Of this total, 4,514 are from the Department of Corrections School District

Pre-school children are served through Arkansas Better Chance (ABC) Programs, HIPPY, and special education services for handicapped children.

Not all cooperatives operate the same pre-school programs.

Southeast Arkansas serves schools outside the established cooperative area in the following ways:
- Hampton School District - Workforce Education
- Arkansas AmeriCorps Teacher Recruitment available to all districts
- North Little Rock and Stuttgart Districts - formative assessment
- Stuttgart, Camden Fairview, and DeWitt Districts - Math consortium
- Arkansas Early College High School - 36 high schools across the state

The total number of counties served exceeds 75 due to the fact that schools in some counties are served by more than one regional service cooperative.
Arkansas Code Annotated § 6-13-1021 requires that each five years the regional education service cooperatives engage in an evaluation study and review to be coordinated by the Arkansas Department of Education. This summary describes the process, identifies the on-site evaluation team, and presents findings and recommendations that resulted from the site visit.

Evaluation Process

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from Arch Ford Education Service Cooperative conducted a self-study and reported status of the use satisfaction, service adequacy, financial support, staff qualifications, and performance and administrative effectiveness. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

The Department of Education, in consultation with the cooperative director, invited a team to visit the cooperative site and conduct a review of the documents. A list of committee members is attached to this report.

The agenda for the evaluation site visit included an overview presentation prepared by the cooperative staff, which highlighted the various areas of service provided to districts/schools served and direct services to administrators and teachers as well as services to eligible children as identified for special services. Team members were assigned to a sub-committee and given the task of reviewing the self-study documents and exhibits including data from questionnaires and participant surveys as well as conducting brief interviews with staff. Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.
Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

This sub-committee reviewed documents detailing the governance and administrative structure of the Arch Ford Education Service Cooperative and interviewed the Director to determine that there is a strong working relationship between cooperative administration, staff and the Executive Committee. The committee noted that there is seldom a change in the officers as elected by the Executive Committee, thus the structure of the governing body may not always follow the requirements of 6-13-1007 3(c), which suggests a three-year staggered term for members of the Executive Committee. Otherwise, the materials reviewed and interviews conducted suggest that the governance of the cooperative meets or exceeds statutory requirements.

Recommendations:

- The Executive Committee and cooperative administration should address the issue of elected officers of the Executive Committee serving three-year staggered terms.

Program

This sub-committee reviewed the Program Section materials provided and interviewed cooperative administrators and program staff and local area superintendents and representatives of the Teacher Center Committee. The sub-committee found that the programs provided were in keeping with the needs assessment of local schools. We also found the programs are being planned and managed in keeping with state statutes.

The Cooperative demonstrates a high level of collaboration with local universities and both member and non-member districts. The professional culture is evident and supported by strong staff commitment.

The Cooperative exceeds state statutes as evidenced by their desire to go above and beyond member school needs by providing:

- A cadre of teachers of technology
- Focus testing
- Assistance to schools in school improvement as determined by No Child Left Behind
- Support for English as a second language (ESL) students.
The sub-committee supports the need as identified by the schools and cooperative staff to expand services for secondary schools. Services for literacy and mathematics and available, but there will be an increased need for science as new science assessments are implemented at the state level.

Recommendations:

- Consideration should be given to providing additional services for teachers in the content areas of mathematics and science. These services could be provided by establishing a center for science and mathematics at the cooperative and staffing the center with content area specialists. (Some services are currently available through a center located on another campus but schools are seeking more time and more in-depth services.)

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This sub-committee reviewed many documents relating to the fiscal management and personnel management of the cooperative, which included Board minutes, personnel policy handbooks, state audit reports, and inventories and finds that this area of the study meets and generally exceeds requirements as provided in statutes.

In the self-study, the staff advanced the needs for formalizing a community of learners among the administrative and program staff. This committee supports the tenets of this recommendation, but believes that many components of a community of learners currently exists in that staff members interviewed all demonstrated an understanding of the "big picture" of operation and management of the cooperative.

Recommendation:

- Continue the work to formalize a community of learners among the administration and program staff; however, don't lose the collegial atmosphere that surrounds the work and workers where all staff members feel that they are an important part of the work of the cooperative.

Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

A review of the Self-Study, performance reports, other documents and interviews with the Director support the finding that the Arkansas River Education Service Cooperative meets or exceeds legislative requirements with possibly one exception. Arkansas Code Annotated § 6-13-1005 states that cooperatives will be established so that they include at least ten (10) but not more than thirty-five (35) school districts. When the cooperative was established it clearly met that requirement. However, with local school consolidations and at least one district requesting to be served by another of the regional service cooperatives, Arkansas River Education Service Cooperative now serves seven (7) local school district, the Department of Corrections School District and the Arkansas School for the Deaf, which is a total of nine (9) entities. This committee supports the organizational structure of the region and notes that the cooperative continues to serve in excess of the 20,000 students in the region. Additionally, this cooperative serves a geographic region of Arkansas that is economically impoverished and continues to experience declining enrollments.

Due to the number of member school districts, the Cooperative Board makes executive decisions, thus there is no need for a separate executive committee.

The scope of work for the cooperative appears to be consistent with the documented needs of school and students served by the cooperative.

This Committee endorses the recommendations made within the self-study, which will be reflected in the Program Committee summary.

The Committee commends the work of the cooperative as it relates to becoming a productive component of the Pine Bluff/Jefferson County community. That community support was evidenced by the attendance of the Mayor and other community leaders during the luncheon session.

Program

This sub-committee reviewed needs-assessment summaries, programming provided for schools and students, evaluations of work accomplished and interviewed staff to further document work accomplished by the staff. It is noted that the position of a teacher-center director/assistant director has just been hired and on the job a few days.

The work of Dr. Anderson in procuring, processing, distributing instructional materials, books and other items through the cooperative is truly commendable.
The committee noted the many volumes of print material and other instructional volumes that are made available to teachers, parents and others as well as global outreach is truly commendable.

Much of the programming for the cooperative is focused on meeting the instructional needs of teachers in Delta area schools. Equally notable is the services to students who are seeking GED or services to young mothers who receive direct support and tutoring to assist with childcare and supplemental instruction to help with performance in the classroom.

Upon review of the programs and print materials provided, the committee believes that the program components as offered through Arkansas River Education Service Cooperative meets or exceeds the legislative requirements.

Recommendations:

- Consideration should be given to increasing participation of secondary teachers in the professional development provided by the cooperative. Attendance data from a number of sessions listed five or fewer participants, many with zero. It is noted that the mathematics specialist focuses most of her work at the elementary and middle grades levels. Some collaboration was evidenced with the regional center, which is housed at the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff.
- Additional professional development in the content areas, especially for secondary teachers should be included in the program component of the cooperative’s work.
- Consider structuring sessions for “job alike” groups during professional development training events.
- Expand the use of compressed video for the delivery of professional development. This would minimize travel time and expenses for schools and/or individual participants.
- Minimize the time teachers and administrators are away from classrooms to participate in professional development events.
- Give consideration to adding additional staff with the focus of work being on secondary academic performance.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This sub-committee reviewed many documents relating to the fiscal management and personnel management of the cooperative, which included Board minutes, personnel policy handbooks, state audit reports, and inventories and finds that this area of the study meets and generally exceeds requirements as provided in statutes.
Recommendation:

- Find a way within the budget to create more opportunities for positive communication with and between the cooperative and the local districts.

Arkansas Code Annotated § 6-13-1021 requires that each five years the regional education service cooperatives engage in an evaluation study and review to be coordinated by the Arkansas Department of Education. This summary describes the process, identifies the on-site evaluation team, and presents findings and recommendations that resulted from the site visit.

Evaluation Process

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from Crowley’s Ridge Educational Service Cooperative conducted a self-study and reported status of the use satisfaction, service adequacy, financial support, staff qualifications, and performance and administrative effectiveness. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

The Department of Education, in consultation with the cooperative director, invited a team to visit the cooperative site and conduct a review of the documents. A list of committee members is attached to this report.

The agenda for the evaluation site visit included an overview presentation prepared by the cooperative staff, which highlighted the various areas of service provided to districts/schools served and direct services to administrators and teachers as well as services to eligible children as identified for special services. Team members were assigned to a sub-committee and given the task of reviewing the self-study documents and exhibits including data from questionnaires and participant surveys as well as conducting brief interviews with staff. Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.
Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

This sub-committee reviewed the documents provided from the self-study, minutes of Board of Director's meetings, financial documents, and interviewed Cooperative staff and the chair of the Board of Directors and find that the Crowley's Ridge Educational Service Cooperative meets or exceeds expectations for operation and governance as defined in statutes. The sub-committee noted that the mission and vision of the Cooperative continues to reflect ideals established with the formation of the Cooperatives in 1985: professional development, media services, teacher evaluation, cooperative purchasing and other services as determined by the member schools.

Each year the Cooperative staff conducts a needs assessment so that the services provided continue to reflect the identified needs of the member schools.

The Cooperative is now housed in a new structure designed and constructed as an economic development project for the Harrisburg community. Previously, the Cooperative was housed in a formerly abandoned school building, which needed much repair and did not provide a facility conducive to productive employment nor a meeting place for events sponsored by the Cooperative. A local Harrisburg public facilities board was established and the facility was constructed with a rural development loan though the City of Harrisburg. The City leases the facility to the Cooperative, thus local business and professional community members understood the financial benefit of having the Cooperative located within the City of Harrisburg.

Since opening last year, the facility has been used occasionally by City events, which the Director and staff want to expand in the near future.

Recommendations:

- Explore ways to more effectively provide information to the communities served by the Center as to its mission and to the services provided to local school districts, administrators, teachers and students.

- Continue to build the partnership with the Harrisburg community and explore additional opportunities to showcase the new facility and increase awareness of the work of the Cooperative.
Program

This sub-committee affirmed that the Program component of the self-study is truly driven by the needs of teachers, administrators from member schools and districts in the service area. Each year a needs assessment is conducted; however, the Committee observed that it has been several years since many of the items on the assessment have been revised and updated.

The sub-committee reviewed other materials provided through the self-study as well and evaluation documents from users of professional development and other services provided. The Committee affirms that the required components of the program area are being met or exceeded as defined by legislation.

Recommendations:

- Give careful attention to updating the annual needs assessment instrument and once information is returned, staff should work together to prepare an action plan keyed toward the framing of local district needs and incorporating them into an individual training plan for each district. The Committee notes that perhaps many districts will have similar needs, thus whenever appropriate combine similar elements.

- Consider options for additional training opportunities for high school faculty especially in the areas of mathematics and science.

- Update teacher center materials or determine that this service is no longer needed and explore ways of meeting some of those needs in another manner.

- Explore the option(s) for devoting more attention to grant writing and grant administration. Given that a major percentage of the Cooperative's budget is dependent on grants, then a more formal process for preparing grants should be considered.

- Continue to use the resources of the community to expand and support Cooperative activities and events.

- Continue to find new and different ways of “advertising” or sharing the work of the Cooperative with Harrisburg residents and patrons from other communities served by the Center.
• Update the Cooperative Web-site and revisit the overall technology utilization plan for the staff.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This sub-committee reviewed fiscal records, budgets, audit reports and interviewed the Cooperative director and bookkeeper to determine that fiscal management is becoming more stable. It is noted that less than 10% of the income is from state sources; the remainder is based on fees for services or grants secured from state, federal or private sources. Much staff time has to be devoted to grant procurement and administration given the financial structure that is in place.

One area of concern that emerged from interviews with staff and the Director is that of reimbursement for staff travel. With the wide-spread geographical area served, each staff member travels four and sometimes five days each week. Also, many staff travel in the same direction or to the same schools at the same time. There is apparently no strategy in place or under consideration that would help minimize travel expenses.

Recommendations:

• Explore ways to minimize travel of staff to the same areas whenever possible. This would result in significant cost savings to the cooperative and the program areas.

• Expand the use of technology to conduct meetings and professional development for teachers and administrators throughout the region. This would reduce travel costs and increase the efficiency of staff.

• Utilize local resources – teachers and/or administrators – to provide some of the professional development when feasible to reduce travel costs and reduce fees paid to out-of-state consultants.

• Consider the services of a grant writer or a grant development team composed of current staff who would devote specific energies to seeking grant funds or redirecting funds once a program changes focus. Example: the tobacco settlement grant is no longer being funded.

• Consider hosting more professional development sessions in local schools to minimize the number of teachers who travel to sessions or to reduce the distance traveled.

This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.

Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance
It is the conclusion of the Historical Perspective and Governance Committee that the Dawson Education Cooperative has managed and organized the work of the Cooperative to exceed established legislative expectations. This Committee reviewed the self-study materials, performance reports, Executive Board minutes and historical documents, and interviewed cooperative recipients and believes that the materials presented accurately reflect the beliefs of clients served throughout the region. Thus, we believe that Dawson Education Cooperative exceeds the expectation in meeting historical and emerging needs of the districts and the children served.

Program

The strength of Dawson Education Cooperative is the personnel and their willingness to serve the member districts both on-site and at the district level. The cooperative addresses a wide variety of content needs that meets or exceeds what is required by law concerning programs. The cooperative has cutting-edge technology centers and distance learning opportunities that continue to expand. The cooperative provides an array of programs and services to all member districts. A review of user evaluation reports indicated that participants in professional development believe that services meet their needs and evaluate the quality of service very high.

Recommendations:

- Expand the high school opportunities to include content specialists for math, literacy and science. That nation and state are beginning to focus on high school redesign. Those added content specialists could provide additional technical support for high school teachers and increase participation of teachers from those grade levels

- Explore the possibility of offering Arkansas Better Chance pre-schools to the cooperative members schools. Research indicates that pre-school is an important area for closing the achievement gap.

- Design a formal on-line survey for professional development needs. Include the opportunity for teachers to address areas from the Arkansas Comprehensive School Improvement Plan and personal interest for professional growth.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This sub-committee finds that the Dawson Education Cooperative is managing its fiscal resources effectively in order to meet its goals and objectives to assist schools to meet accreditation standards, have access to educational resources, and assisting with coordination between the school/district and the Arkansas Department of Education. The sub-committee finds that the Cooperative is managing fiscal resources and allocating those resources in a responsible manner that aligns with all pertinent legislation. The sub-committee notes that the majority of the operational budget for this cooperative is based on grant funds, which requires staff to continually be engaged in proposal development and a search for additional funds.

Recommendation:

- Continue to work with the legislative process to increase the percent of the budget that is not from grants or grant dependent funding.

- Seek sources of funds that will allow expansion of staff to meet more of the needs of high school faculty.

- Give priority for expansion of staff to content specialists that will service professional development for high school teachers.

Historical Perspective and Governance

It is the conclusion of the Historical Perspective and Governance Committee that the DeQueen/Mena Educational Cooperative is in complete compliance with the requirements of organization and governance as outlined in statute and reported in the self-study documentation. This Committee reviewed the self-study materials, performance reports, Executive Board minutes and historical documents, and interviewed cooperative recipients and believes that the materials presented accurately reflect the beliefs of clients served throughout the region. Thus, we believe that Dawson Education Cooperative exceeds the expectation in meeting historical and emerging needs of the districts and the children served.

Program

This sub-committee reports that the programs offered by the Cooperative are relevant to the needs reported by the schools and clients in the region. The committee commends the staff for providing a wide variety of offerings. The self-study, which included reports from surveys to user groups throughout the region, presents a clear summary of stated need for programs. The Committee believes that the staff makes every effort to meet the identified needs.

The Committee endorses the recommendations identified in the self-study and provides the following additional suggested program enhancements when funds are available.

- Consider periodic opportunities for local school media specialists to be acquainted with new and updated equipment and materials available through the Cooperative Resources Center.

- Continue to add resources and training for teachers in the area of Hispanic culture.

- Continue and extend training that focuses on economically disadvantaged populations such as materials developed by Dr. Ruby Payne.

- Pursue funds that will allow the expansion of the behavioral intervention program to kindergarten classes.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel
This sub-committee finds that the DeQueen/Mena Educational Cooperative meets or exceeds all requirements and recommendations in the areas of fiscal management, budget and personnel as noted in statutes. The Committee notes the efficient and productive working relationship that exists between Cooperative staff and administration with local school district staff and administration, the attention to detail and accuracy in fiscal accounting and management, and the overall highly qualified staff, which appears committed and dedicated to improvement of performance for students and schools in this region of the state.

Recommendations:

- As additional funding becomes available, consideration should be given to additional services in the area of testing and data analysis. These services would further increase accountability and improve student performance on Benchmark and other required tests.

- Give priority to employment of a secondary mathematics specialist and a secondary science specialist

- Continue and increase services to schools in the area of group purchasing for supplies and equipment.

Evaluation Process

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from Great Rivers Educational Cooperative conducted a self-study and reported status of the use satisfaction, service adequacy, financial support, staff qualifications, and performance and administrative effectiveness. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

The Department of Education, in consultation with the cooperative director, invited a team to visit the cooperative site and conduct a review of the documents. A list of committee members is attached to this report.

Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.
Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

This sub-committee reviewed the requirements of the legislation regarding the historical perspective and governance of the Great Rivers Education Service Cooperative. Each of the items in the self-study was examined as well as additional documentation provided to the Committee. The self-study documents included responses to Sections in Ark. Code Ann. §§ 6-13-1004, 6-13-1005, 6-13-1006, and 6-13-1007. The Committee found that the Great Rivers Cooperative meets or exceeds the requirements of these statutes. Each item was supported by documentation with references to approval by the Cooperative Board of Directors.

The Committee does not find that recommendations are necessary for this area of the evaluation.

Program

This Sub-Committee reviewed documents provided through the self-study materials as well as conducted interviews with various staff members, local school administrators and teachers who utilize the services of the program areas of the Cooperative. This Committee finds that the self-study documents for programs managed by the Cooperative are comprehensive and reflect a fair and accurate status of the programs provided.

The self-study listed recommendations that should be considered extended services and should be considered when and if additional funds are available.

Recommendations:

- The Committee supports the documented need for additional staff to provide programming for high school teachers especially in the areas of literacy, mathematics and science.
- Since a large proportion of the programming for the Cooperative is dependent on securing grants from state and federal sources, consideration should be given to funding a position that would focus energies on grant writing and grant procurement.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This Sub-Committee perceived its role as establishing the extent to which the Cooperative was meeting its stated goals in the areas of fiscal management, budget and personnel. The Committee concludes that the Great Rivers
Education Service Cooperative is meeting its stated goals toward maintaining good fiscal management practices, following annual item budget closely and following good personnel management practices.

Recommendations:

- Review the Grievance Procedure section of the Personnel Policy Manual, the first step in the Grievance Procedure should specify or clarify where the ten-day grievance presentation period starts. This will assist in off-setting the time-line confusion in the grievance procedure.

- Consideration should be given to adding a personal growth model option to the annual personnel performance evaluation of all employees. The employee's immediate supervisor can discuss Professional Growth Plan or Individual Improvement Plan options, which will enable staff to take an active role in self-evaluation and growth.

- In this era of technology and with all the technology available to staff and in the school, the administration of the Cooperative should carefully consider moving to electronic transmission of Board materials, Minutes etc.

- In support of program expansion as defined in the self-study, the next staff expansion should be toward high school professional development with emphasis on reading, mathematics and science.

This summary describes the process, identifies the on-site evaluation team, and presents findings and recommendations that resulted from the site visit.

Evaluation Process

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from Northcentral Arkansas Education Service Center conducted a self-study and reported status of the use satisfaction, service adequacy, financial support, staff qualifications, and performance and administrative effectiveness. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

The Department of Education, in consultation with the cooperative director, invited a team to visit the cooperative site and conduct a review of the documents. A list of committee members is attached to this report.

The agenda for the evaluation site visit included an overview presentation prepared by the cooperative staff, which highlighted the various areas of service provided to districts/schools served and direct services to administrators and teachers as well as services to eligible children as identified for special services. Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.
Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

This sub-committee reviewed the self-study documents, interviewed the Center director and members of the Board of Directors. It is noted that all eligible school districts (seventeen) in the established service area are fully participating members with the superintendent of each local district serving on the Board of Directors. The Board meets regularly and minutes of those meetings are maintained and were made available for review by the visiting committee.

The members of this committee avow that the statutes defining historical perspective and governance are met or exceeded.

The Center has established partnerships with the area community college and continually explores ways to expand the cooperation between the institutions.

In the self-study document the Center staff noted that more emphasis could and should be placed on providing information to the communities served by the cooperative. Local business representatives confirmed their limited knowledge about the mission of the Center, thus supported the need for more community awareness.

Recommendations:

- Explore ways to effectively provide information to the communities served by the Center as to its mission and to the services provided to local school districts, administrators, teachers and students.

- Continue to build partnerships with other post secondary institutions in the area.

Program

This sub-committee reviewed data presented by the Center through the self-study and the displays prepared for the committee. Additionally, the committee interviewed the teacher center director, various program managers and representatives of the teacher-center committee. It is the belief of this committee that all areas of the self-study were addressed and the programming meets or exceeds the expectations as outlined in legislation. Additionally, the Center staff conducts an annual needs survey to identify areas of need or interest from administrators and teachers. The results of this needs assessment is used to plan professional development activities during the summer and subsequently during the school year.
This committee is pleased to report that the program component of the work of the Center is staffed by educational professional who are committed to meeting the needs of teachers and administrators in the service area and do so in an accommodating, energetic and caring way.

It was noted by the committee that several staff members share a common office with very minimal storage and work space. Most of these staff members work in the rapidly expanding early childhood program. Additional office and work space for this program is underway and should be ready prior to the opening of school in August.

Recommendations:

- The committee concurs with the self-study document and supports the need for additional staff to work in the area of secondary mathematics and science as a first priority and other support for high school teachers in other disciplines should also be considered as funding becomes available.

- One area of work that would be addressed by additional staff would be to develop content alignment with the new secondary mathematics frameworks.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This committee chooses to begin its summary by noting that between six and seven percent of the operational budget are received for state allocated funds, the remainder are funds from entitlement and competitive grants either from the state, federal and/or private funding sources. This means that much of the staff’s time is spend either in generating proposals seeking funds or reporting of activities of funded grants. Although $40,000 new state dollars are anticipated in the next biennium, that is a far cry from the resources needed to maintain the efficient operation noted at this Center.

The director and staff have demonstrated acceptable practices in all areas of the report. As with audits, the Center has had no exceptions, outside of segregation of duties, since 2003. Reporting of fiscal and some program operations is through APSCN and through electronic reporting for special education services.

The cooperative makes no assessment of local districts for dues or basic fees. There are fees charged for participation in some events throughout the work of the program staff.
The facilities are relatively new, but program expansion has necessitated further expansion. A new addition to the building is under construction. Revolving loan funds from the state were secured to provide funding for a major part of the construction costs. Other funds were from non-restricted fund balances accrued over the past several years.

Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

The Northeast Arkansas Education Cooperative meets and often exceeds the legislative guidelines provided. The Cooperative Board meets regularly and appears to have open communication between members of the Board and Cooperative administration and staff. Documentation of past years' work is well maintained and accessible. There appears to be interest in developing and preserving archival records. The sub-committee notes that one district served by the cooperative is located well beyond the 50 mile radius, which necessitates longer travel time for teachers in that district to attend professional development sessions and other events provided by the cooperative.

Recommendations

The sub-committee endorses the self-study identified needs and recommendations:

- Increase base funding to assure management of services and programming to meet the needs of schools and teachers in this service region.

- Provide for preservation of archival data by dedicating staff time or employing a staff member to serve as a historian.

Additional recommendations

- Consider providing some professional development sessions or meetings at sites other than in Walnut Ridge to accommodate teachers who reside/work on the fringes of the service area.

- Fine-tune the surveys to pinpoint specific needs for workshop offerings.

Program

The Program Sub-Committee finds that the Northeast Arkansas Education Cooperative meets or exceeds the legislative intent as outlined in statutes and objectives set forth for programming by the Cooperative Board of Directors.

The sub-committee observed documentation and program descriptions identifying a large array of programs and services based on identified needs established by the annual needs assessment completed by teachers, administrators, and other users of these services. The needs assessment process is tied closely to the needs as identified by the local districts' ACSIP Plans and the teacher professional growth plans. These programs satisfactorily serve the identified needs and interests of the users of these services. It is noted that a wide variety of high quality professional development services are provided and there is evidence of collegial cooperation among the member schools, colleges and universities, as well as businesses in the community. Cooperation is especially noted between the Cooperative and Williams Baptist College when additional space is needed for meetings.

The facilities serve the Cooperative and its services well.

The Committee notes that state funding has not been increased for several years, which means that programming and extended services must be provided through grants or pooled resources from local districts.

Recommendations:

- Explore options for providing additional revenue to support the technology initiatives – both programming and staffing
- Work toward providing additional services in the content area of science by employing an in-house science specialist
- Work toward getting the teacher center materials request and video request on line
- Consider the options of an internship program with partner colleges and universities
- As funds are available consider updating the media resources to provide more current topics and move the format to DVD.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

The staff has been extremely helpful to this sub-committee as it reviewed the materials provided and the self-study documents in the areas of finance and personnel. The committee received positive feedback from school superintendents, principals, and Teacher Center Committee members regarding the many services offered at the Northeast Arkansas Educational Cooperative and its administrative management. The committee noted that personnel documents were up-to-date and files reflect attention to detail in maintaining accurate and complete documentation in these areas.
The committee commends the staff for its attention to audit recommendations and recommendations from the previous program review from five years ago.

Recommendations

- Provide the same year’s data for the legislative audit, budget, financial report, and annual report in order to see the “big picture.” The committee had to look at three different years’ data to see all of the required documents.

- Explore and adopt administrative procedures that allows staff to maintain up-to-date information when comparing expenditures for the budget year, obligations and the year, and balances. Periodic reporting from the bookkeeping staff to program managers would be one way to implement this recommendation.

- While personnel policies are being updated, this would be a good time to review all aspects of the personnel handbook and revise where needed. Once the personnel policies have been adopted, adopt a procedure whereby each staff member is issued a copy and staff members have the opportunity to ask for clarification of any item in the policy. Also adopt a procedure for document that every staff member has received the personnel policy. Some areas for consideration in the personnel policy update:
  - Adding provision for Family Medical Leave Act
  - Workplace violence policy
  - More adequate display of building evacuation route(s)
  - A written procedure for annual personnel evaluation and structure for carrying out the annual personnel evaluations
  - Consider the need for Pandemic Plan inclusion.

Arkansas Code Annotated § 6-13-1021 requires that each five years the regional education service cooperatives engage in an evaluation study and review to be coordinated by the Arkansas Department of Education. This summary describes the process, identifies the on-site evaluation team, and presents findings and recommendations that resulted from the site visit.

Evaluation Process

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from Northwest Arkansas Education Service Cooperative conducted a self-study and reported status of the use satisfaction, service adequacy, financial support, staff qualifications, and performance and administrative effectiveness. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

The Department of Education, in consultation with the cooperative director, invited a team to visit the cooperative site and conduct a review of the documents. A list of committee members is attached to this report.

The agenda for the evaluation site visit included an overview presentation prepared by the cooperative staff, which highlighted the various areas of service provided to districts/schools served and direct services to administrators and teachers as well as services to eligible children as identified for special services. Team members were assigned to a sub-committee and given the task of reviewing the self-study documents and exhibits including data from questionnaires and participant surveys as well as conducting brief interviews with staff. Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.
Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

The Northwest Arkansas Education Service Cooperative was approved by the State Board of Education to begin operation on July 1, 1985. Since that time the cooperative has operated continuously serving 100% of the school districts (including charter schools) in the three-county area. The Cooperative is governed by a board of directors composed of superintendents of the member school districts. The Board meets at least eight (8) times annually.

The primary services of the Cooperative are aligned with the overall needs as determined by the Board of Directors and the elected Teacher Center Committee. The following are the current adopted objectives:

- Assist schools/districts in meeting accreditation standards and equalizing educational opportunities for students throughout the service area

- Assist schools/districts in using educational resource more effectively through cooperation among districts

- Promote coordination between school districts and the Department of Education to provide services which are consistent with the needs identified by the districts.

During the evaluation visit, this sub-committee reviewed historical documents, minutes of meetings of the Board of Directors, various financial documents, needs assessment reports and interviewed the director. It is the consensus on this sub-committee that the governance of the Cooperative meets or exceeds all the statutory requirements.

Recommendations:

- The Cooperative should engage in an audit of the technology available for use by staff and for doing business, including providing professional development via distance learning. Once the audit is complete, prepare a plan to upgrade necessary equipment and software especially in support for providing professional development.

- The Committee supports the recommendations from the self study, most of which will be repeated in the program section of the report.
Program

This sub-committee reviewed the self-study report, interviewed cooperative staff, and visited with Teacher Center Committee representatives and agrees that the overall program area of work meets or exceeds the legislative intent and outlined in statute. The Committee notes that an annual assessment is conducted to determine areas of need for the coming year(s). Each summer and throughout the school year, the Cooperative provides professional development events for teachers, administrators as well as many services directly to students and their families.

The Committee notes that through the Cooperative all districts receive valuable services; however, in smaller districts teachers and administrators would not receive many of the opportunities if the Cooperative were not present.

Recommendations:

The committee supports the recommendations found in the self-study document and highlights the following in addition.

- Explore options that would allow services of the Mathematics and Science Center currently housed at the University of Arkansas to be more attentive to the needs of teachers and to provide more opportunities for teachers through the Cooperative. One option would be to pursue relocation of that center into the Cooperative.

- Upgrade technology hardware and software to better meet the instructional needs of administrators and teachers in the region.

- As technology in the schools improves, consider providing more training via distance learning and/or consider moving some of the training currently planned for the Cooperative site into the local schools. Perhaps such a relocation of providing services might reduce travel costs and travel time for participants.

- Although listed in the self-study, the committee wishes to highlight the need for and support for completing the work in progress on K-12 instructional alignment and to extend that work to other content disciplines. Additionally, explore options for training teachers to use the instructional alignment documents while minimizing teachers being away from classrooms during the school year.
Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This sub-committee reviewed the legislative requirements and examined the self-study report, annual financial reports, and fiscal audits as well as interviewed the Cooperative director and the bookkeeper. The sub-committee finds that in all areas reviewed, fiscal management and personnel functions meet or exceed the legislative mandates.

Concerning personnel, the sub-committee reviewed licensing credentials of the program staff and found that all met the requirements for Highly Qualified Teachers, as outlined in the No Child Left Behind legislation. The committee noted this as a major plus although such reporting is not required by the state.

The sub-committee also comments on the overall funding of the cooperative in that less than 10% of the revenue is from state funds, the balance being awarded primarily from grants. Such funding allows staff to extend services, but often that same staff must be working of grant development, reporting or evaluation rather than providing direct services to participants from the member schools and districts.

Recommendations:

- Consider employment of a part-time grant writer/developer. This would free some staff of the rigor of continually working on grant development and allow more time for service activities for teachers and administrators in the member schools and districts.

- Explore the options of establishing an Educational Foundation that could become a resource for additional funding or for options of receiving tax-deferred gifts and donations.

- Continue to advocate for per-pupil allocation of state funds. Currently, each cooperative shares equally in the allocation and distribution of state funds. Such distribution is not equitable given the difference in the number of teachers and schools to be served by the cooperatives.

Evaluation Summary
Ozarks Unlimited Resources (OUR) Educational Cooperative
Friday, April 13, 2007

Arkansas Code Annotated § 6-13-1021 requires that each five years the regional education service cooperatives engage in an evaluation study and review to be coordinated by the Arkansas Department of Education. This summary describes the process, identifies the on-site evaluation team, and presents findings and recommendations that resulted from the site visit.

Evaluation Process

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from OUR Educational Cooperative conducted a self-study and reported status of the use satisfaction, service adequacy, financial support, staff qualifications, and performance and administrative effectiveness. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

The Department of Education, in consultation with the cooperative director, invited a team to visit the cooperative site and conduct a review of the documents. A list of committee members is attached to this report.

The agenda for the evaluation site visit included an overview presentation prepared by the cooperative staff, which highlighted the various areas of service provided to districts/schools served and direct services to administrators and teachers as well as services to eligible children as identified for special services. Team members were assigned to a sub-committee and given the task of reviewing the self-study documents and exhibits including data from questionnaires and participant surveys as well as conducting brief interviews with staff. Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.
Team Summaries

It is noted that the facilities from which the services are provided lack in space, accessibility, storage and secure permanent housing for documents needed for long-term historical perspective. The Director reported that work is underway to construct a new facility that will be specifically designed to meet many if not most of the documented space needs. The Committee supports this move and encourages the staff and the Board to actively pursue the necessary funding and financial structure to make this proposed new location a reality.

Historical Perspective and Governance

The Historical Perspective and Governance sub-committee reviewed legislative requirements, board policies, board meeting minutes, needs assessments, surveys, and historical records. Based on these reviews and interviews with staff and members of the Executive Board, the cooperative is in compliance with legislative requirements relative to these areas of review.

In 1985, the OUR Cooperative met the requirements for organization and governance in accordance with ACT 349. The Cooperative is governed by the superintendents of the 16 school districts served. Policies for the operation and management of the Cooperative have been developed and are consistent with state requirements. Annual budgets and financial reports are submitted in accordance with the APSCN system. The Cooperative meets requirements for frequency of board meetings and Teacher Center Committee meetings.

Recommendations:

The Committee concurs with the following recommendations found in the self-study document.

- The Director should continue the current effort to update the board policies in order to be able to recommend a more complete operations manual to the board.

- The staff is encouraged to devise a system for better historical record keeping and retrieval of anecdotal data pertaining to the Cooperative.

Additional Recommendations from the Committee:

- When the new Cooperative facility is constructed, consideration should be given to providing fire protection for essential records and data.
The Cooperative is encouraged to pursue a system for duplicating and storing back-up records at a separate location.

Program

This sub-committee examined numerous documents including minutes of the Teacher Center Committee and the Gifted and Talented Coordinators’ Meetings, needs assessment surveys, evaluation instruments for the professional development sessions provided by cooperative staff, the Cooperative Annual Report and other materials made available to the Committee during the visit. Also, the Committee interviewed cooperative staff and members of the Teacher Center Committee. These materials reviews and interviews provided ample evidence that the OUR cooperative is in compliance with the state mandates and is providing essential services to member schools.

The Committee supports the recommendations as listed in the self-study materials. Of particular note are the recommendations to enhance professional development opportunities by focusing on specialized departments and by providing follow-up opportunities in a wide variety of content areas and to improve communication channels within the staff and to the member schools.

Other recommendations:

- Send e-mails concerning professional development directly to all staff in member schools.

- Update and catalog the media resource library – weeding the collection is a critical component of this work.

- Extend the CIV services to encompass mathematics and science professional development opportunities that originate at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.

- Partner more with the North Arkansas College to extend professional development opportunities.

- Consider establishing an advisory group comprised of community members and parents.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

The Committee commends the OUR staff for its attention to financial management issues that were experienced in previous years. In three years this staff has taken the budget from a huge deficit to a current position clear of debt and with a healthy carryover that includes a substantial building fund amount.

After interviewing the Director, the Committee notes that much work has gone into research and planning for the upcoming building project. The need for new facilities is clear from a quick tour of the present building and office space. Parking is inadequate and not easily accessible to meeting rooms and service to handicapped individuals is all but precluded in the current building arrangement.

It is apparent that the staff and Director are committed to improving professional development and providing quality service to teachers, administrators, parents and students from this area of the state. The current hiring practice shows a priority in quality teamwork and personal investment. An example is that the Director has invested much time and effort in finding the “right people” who are qualified for the position and will help advance the progress made toward regaining the faith and trust of those served by the Cooperative. During an interview with local superintendents and school personnel, the Committee realized that the trust and faith that had been lost is now being restored and that staff is a key element for a healthy atmosphere between teachers, administrators and Cooperative staff.

The Committee endorses the recommendations set forth in the self-study.

Suggestions for Community Involvement

Members from the Committee noted that the Harrison area and this region of north Arkansas is very “giving.” One area that could be explored is a community pledge drive. Increased awareness in the community of the OUR needs regarding the building project and funding such as new computer equipment is essential. An example of possible community support could involve the seven local banks pledging funds or an endowment for a specific area of need. In return, the Cooperative could provide facilities for training of employees or providing staff to assist with such local community meeting needs.

Arkansas Code Annotated § 6-13-1021 requires that each five years the regional education service cooperatives engage in an evaluation study and review to be coordinated by the Arkansas Department of Education. This summary describes the process, identifies the on-site evaluation team, and presents findings and recommendations that resulted from the site visit.

Evaluation Process

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from the South Central Service Cooperative conducted a self-study and reported status of the use satisfaction, service adequacy, financial support, staff qualifications, and performance and administrative effectiveness. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

The Department of Education, in consultation with the cooperative director, invited a team to visit the cooperative site and conduct a review of the documents. A list of committee members is attached to this report.

The agenda for the evaluation site visit included an overview presentation prepared by the cooperative staff, which highlighted the various areas of service provided to districts/schools served and direct services to administrators and teachers as well as services to eligible children as identified for special services. Team members were assigned to a sub-committee and given the task of reviewing the self-study documents and exhibits including data from questionnaires and participant surveys as well as conducting brief interviews with staff. Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.
Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

The sub-committee reviewed exhibits provided to the committee including the original request to establish a cooperative, board minutes, needs assessment documents, participation data, and financial data. Presently the cooperative serves 13 districts with approximately 17,600 students, which is below that required in the legislation (20,000) for a minimum area of service. The number of students has decreased significantly during the past 10 years due to relocation of major employers and overall population decrease in the Arkansas delta. The sub-committee notes that the cooperative actively maintains partnerships with two major universities, Henderson State University and Southern Arkansas University, and area Enterprise Renewal Zones recently formed in the region.

The sub-committee supports the documentation provided in the self-study and believe that all requirements established in legislation are being met with the exception of number of students served.

The sub-committee has no recommendation regarding the issue of meeting the minimum number of students to be served as found in the legislation.

Program

This sub-committee’s work included a review of self-study documents, needs assessment studies, program evaluations for the past years, interviews with teacher center committee members and participants in professional development offerings. Those interviewed strongly supported the work of cooperative staff in helping the schools meet the instructional needs of students enrolled in the schools being served as well as direct services to pre-school children and their parents.

The staff conducts a needs assessment each year and constructs programming to meet the documented needs of teachers and administrators. Each year a wide variety of workshops, seminars and trainings are provided. Electronic delivery of professional development allows staff to minimize travel to some extent while providing a wider variety of experiences to participants.

The sub-committee observed that services are provided in a dated, well-used facility that previously was used as a school building. Thus, conference space, staff work space and participant parking are lacking.
The sub-committee notes the successful work of staff in writing and securing grants that help extend the options for programming across the region and across the many areas of service.

Recommendations:

- Examine all possibilities for acquiring a new or newer facility to house the cooperative, especially the professional development components of the program.

- If a new facility is not available in the very near future, seek alternate locations for housing professional development activities. Such options could include local school facilities throughout the cooperative service territory, facilities at college and university campuses, and/or more distance learning options.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This sub-committee reviewed the budget and other financial records provided and affirm that this area meets or exceeds established standards and legal requirements for fiscal management. The sub-committee notes that the cooperative is sound financially and adheres to established accounting and budgeting practices. The income is a combination of state funding, which accounts for less than 10% of the overall funds with the remainder of funds from partnership agreements with local districts or from state and/or federal grants. The sub-committee recognizes the amount of time that the staff spends each year preparing grant proposals and providing documentation of operation and management of the grant programs.

The sub-committee commends the cooperative management for seeking and employing a highly qualified staff many with years of experience with the cooperative.

The sub-committee found personnel management consistent with established standards. Personnel documents such as policy handbooks, etc., were reviewed and found to reflect clear statements of expectation on the part of the employee and the employer. It was noted that some staff vacancies are not filled in a timely manner. Some positions have been vacant for many months.

Recommendations:

- Actively pursue alternate facilities to house the staff and professional development programs offered through the cooperative. The present facility is very dated, has minimal storage, almost no parking for participants, and seems to be a financial drain due to maintenance.

- Become more aggressive in advertising and filling staff vacancies. It is critical to get the "right" person for the job, but some programs seem to be suffering from lack of staff to complete the work that should be ongoing.

Arkansas Code Annotated § 6-13-1021 requires that each five years the regional education service cooperatives engage in an evaluation study and review to be coordinated by the Arkansas Department of Education. This summary describes the process, identifies the on-site evaluation team, and presents findings and recommendations that resulted from the site visit.

Evaluation Process

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from Southeast Arkansas Education Service Cooperative conducted a self-study and reported status of the use satisfaction, service adequacy, financial support, staff qualifications, and performance and administrative effectiveness. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

The Department of Education, in consultation with the cooperative director, invited a team to visit the cooperative site and conduct a review of the documents. A list of committee members is attached to this report.

The agenda for the evaluation site visit included an overview presentation prepared by the cooperative staff, which highlighted the various areas of service provided to districts/schools served and direct services to administrators and teachers as well as services to eligible children as identified for special services. Team members were assigned to a sub-committee and given the task of reviewing the self-study documents and exhibits including data from questionnaires and participant surveys as well as conducting brief interviews with staff. Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.
Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

Based on the self-study of the Southeast Arkansas Education Service Cooperative and interviews with staff and administration, the Historical Perspective and Governance Committee found that all required components under review meet or exceed legislative requirement with one exception. That section is referenced by §6-13-1005, Part 3 requiring regional service cooperatives to serve schools having a collective population of 20,000 students in grades K-12. Because of population declines in the Delta region of Arkansas, currently this cooperative has a K-12 student population of 17,290.

This sub-committee believes that Southeast Arkansas Education Service Cooperative is doing a quality job of providing a wide variety of specific services to a school population that is declining in southeast Arkansas. The committee notes that this area of the state is economically depressed and has a declining workforce and a school population that include high percentages of students who qualify for free or reduced price meals. This subcommittee believes that the Cooperative is bringing resources to its member schools, which would probably not be available without the assistance from the Cooperative.

Southeast Arkansas Education Service Cooperative uses its limited resources to support students and teachers and has assumed increasingly more of the administrative functions for its member since its formation in 1981.

All member schools are within approximately fifty miles of the Cooperative site, which is located in Monticello.

This sub-committee also reviewed the governance structure of Southeast Arkansas Education Service Cooperative. Our findings are that the administrative structure meets the requirements of §6-13-1006. The self-study documents and exhibits provide evidence to support the governance requirements.

Recommendations

It is this committee’s recommendation that although the number of students enrolled in schools served by the cooperative is less than the expected 20,000, that it does not pose an organizational problem and at this point realignment of the geographic regions should not be considered. Any geographical reorganization could cause the newly annex areas to be outside the fifty mile or one hour driving time to attend cooperative functions and/or could erode services provided by other regional service cooperatives.
Program

Programming provided by Southeast Arkansas Education Service Cooperative meets or exceeds all state program requirements as required in statutes. It is noted that the cooperative receives a base funding which is less than 10% of the full budget, which implies that most of the program funds to support activities and initiatives of the cooperative are supported almost totally by grant funding or support contributed by member school districts.

Programs are provided based on needs assessments conducted by the cooperative staff that involve administrators and teachers from all member districts in the service territory. Innovative programming such as Americorp Teacher Initiative, Early College High School and Target Testing are positively affecting schools statewide. Original programs that were pioneered by Southeast Arkansas Education Service Cooperative and duplicated across the state include math coaches training, science coaches training and job-alike meetings. The Cooperative promotes Department of Education initiatives from content area programs to administrative initiatives.

Recommendations:

- Explore options for providing additional revenue to support the technology initiatives – both programming and staffing

- Continue to explore ways to support (fund) and expand formative assessments and to network with other cooperatives to share this work statewide

- Consider some type of formal program evaluation of the distance-learning program to determine the performance level of students who enroll in courses taught through the distance-learning program. Expand the distance-learning options as the continuing needs assessment conveys the need.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

The Southeast Arkansas Education Service Cooperative is a valuable asset to the education system in southeast Arkansas. This committee affirms that the services provided are creative and cost effective and without the cooperative such services would be non-existent for the schools in this region of the state.

This committee reviewed the self-study documents, the financial statements, audit reports and other documents and exhibits provided and conclude that financial documentation meets or exceeds expected performance as outlined in the statutes. The cooperative administration and staff are very resourceful in efforts to obtain grants to extend the base appropriation for services provided. It is noted that the administration and staff have been most successful in grant procurement processes. Without the success in this area, many – if not most – of the services provided would not exist.

Personnel policies and job descriptions are well written, updated and functional. Salary schedules for all positions are in place and implemented. Personnel are evaluated based on performance evaluation descriptions, which have been developed from a variety of resources including local district performance evaluation procedures.

This committee commends the administrative leadership of this cooperative and attributes much of the success in all areas of service to dedicated administration and capable and hardworking staff members.

Recommendation:

- The Committee strongly supports work underway to increase base funding from the State so that services and on-going expenses can be maintained if not expanded to meet the documented needs of schools and participants in the region.

Evaluation Summary
Southwest Arkansas Educational Cooperative
Friday, April 20, 2007

Arkansas Code Annotated § 6-13-1021 requires that each five years the regional education service cooperatives engage in an evaluation study and review to be coordinated by the Arkansas Department of Education. This summary describes the process, identifies the on-site evaluation team, and presents findings and recommendations that resulted from the site visit.

Evaluation Process

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from Southwest Arkansas Educational Service Cooperative conducted a self-study and reported status of the use satisfaction, service adequacy, financial support, staff qualifications, and performance and administrative effectiveness. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

The Department of Education, in consultation with the cooperative director, invited a team to visit the cooperative site and conduct a review of the documents. A list of committee members is attached to this report.

The agenda for the evaluation site visit included an overview presentation prepared by the cooperative staff, which highlighted the various areas of service provided to districts/schools served and direct services to administrators and teachers as well as services to eligible children as identified for special services. Team members were assigned to a sub-committee and given the task of reviewing the self-study documents and exhibits including data from questionnaires and participant surveys as well as conducting brief interviews with staff. Team members also had the opportunity to visit with administrators and teacher committee representatives to survey user satisfaction with services provided.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.

The visiting committee was informed of the potential for collaboration with the local community college and the city of Hope to be part of a new facility under consideration at the local community college site. If this were to materialize, the committee supports the need for alternate facilities. The current building is an old elementary school that has served as the site since the Cooperative’s inception. The visiting committee strongly endorses the need for alternate facilities to support the many programs and professional development offerings scheduled weekly.
Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

This sub-committee reviewed documents detailing the history, governance and administrative structure of the Southwest Arkansas Educational Cooperative. The committee reviewed organizational documents, minutes of Board meetings and other documents as well as conducted interviews with the Cooperative Director and bookkeeper and thus affirms that these areas meet or exceed in many ways the statutory guidance as established by the Arkansas General Assembly. The Cooperative is well managed and appears to be supported by its participating districts through participation on the Board and by attendance at functions. The Cooperative demonstrates good stewardship in utilizing the funds appropriated. The Committee notes that often governance of entities with such a large portion of the income from grant funds is difficult, but none of those potential issues seems to be present for this organization. Continued management of programming in many areas will be dependent on future grants, which has become a way of life.

Program

This sub-committee reviewed self-study materials, participation logs, summaries of assessments and interviewed staff and local district participants and supports the finding that the programs provided exceed the statutory requirements set forth by legislation. Documentation provided supports the tenet that programming is offered to support identified needs from participant surveys. Local district staff members perceive the variety of programming and the dedication of staff to meet instructional needs to be major strengths of the management and operation of the Cooperative. It is apparent that student achievement is a focus for professional development.

A strength of services offered lies in the area of instructional technology. Since a large number of the local districts do not have a technology coordinator, the Cooperative provides services to schools on a regular basis. Smaller districts in the region become a first priority for service.

The sub-committee noted the wide variety of programming available to teachers, administrators, parents of pre-school children as well as direct services to a cadre of pre-school children who are identified as having developmental needs. The staff has a positive working relationship with higher education institutions in the area.

Recommendations:

- As high school reform becomes more prevalent, it is necessary to continue and expand opportunities for secondary-level teachers to participate in high-quality, specific content area professional development. The initial focus should be in areas for which there are state assessments – literacy, mathematics and science.
Seek funding through grant opportunities to provide a state of the art technology lab and updated equipment to serve as a model for all school districts and the community.

Utilize distance learning to provide additional opportunities for professional development at the individual school sites. Presenters could originate at the Cooperative site and viewed at each of the school sites throughout the region. Such delivery would decrease travel time for participants and perhaps open up new opportunities for scheduling.

Provide more opportunities for job-alike groups to network and learn from others with similar positions.

This committee also endorses the following recommendations from the self-study.

Provide a state-of-the art technology center at the Cooperative to serve as a model for schools and provide the latest technology training for teachers.

Provide a Mathematics/Science Center at the Cooperative for more accessible use by the districts.

Seek funding for a high school level coordinators in mathematics, science and social studies.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This sub-committee reviewed many documents relating to the fiscal management and personnel management of the cooperative, which included Board minutes, personnel policy handbooks, state audit reports, and inventories and finds that this area of the study meets and generally exceeds requirements as provided in statutes. Interviews with the director and bookkeeper support the transparent system for recordkeeping that is in place.

Finally, team members were asked to prepare a summary statement and make any recommendations that would enhance the work of the cooperative in meeting the education needs of those served.
Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

The Western Arkansas Education Service Cooperative was organized in 1984 and was one of the original fifteen (15) cooperatives established following enabling legislation by the Arkansas General Assembly. Since its inception, the Western Arkansas Education Service Cooperative has served 100% of the districts in the service area. Originally, there were 25 member districts and now the number has been reduced to 21 districts. The reduction is due to consolidation and reconfiguration of smaller districts in the service territory. This cooperative established policy to address needs of local districts and the teachers and administrators who work in those districts. The focus of the work of the cooperative has remained constant over the years, but the detail and programming shifts with the most current needs assessment, which is conducted annually.

The cooperative has a governing board made up of the superintendent or the superintendent’s designee. The Board meets on a monthly basis and utilizes the services of an executive committee to tend to fiduciary duties, as need demands. Officers are duly elected and serve specific terms.

Over the years the cooperative has expanded facilities to accommodate the increasing services and new staff employed to meet the needs of students in the region.

This sub-committee observes that the governance structure and administration meet and exceeds the requirements as outlined in the enabling legislation. The committee also notes that the many services provided and resources available to schools in the region are well known to those who use the services, but the broader community probably has limited if any understanding of the work of this and other cooperatives across the state.

Recommendations (Some of the following recommendations relate as well to the program component)

- Give careful consideration to developing strategies that will help communicate the work of the cooperative to local community members and community leaders.

- Explore the options created by technology to enhance and/or extend the professional development provided by cooperative staff.
Program

The program initiatives of Western Arkansas Education Service Cooperative are determined primarily by annual needs assessment surveys. Programming provides a broad array of professional development for teacher, administrators, aids and other school personnel throughout the school year with a major concentration offered during the summer months. The staff plans an array of program offerings, which are delivered by staff and by contracted presenters. Many of the initiatives are in keeping with work supported by the Arkansas Department of Education with Smart Start, Smart Step, Reading First and other similar initiatives.

The sub-committee interviewed cooperative staff, local district administrators and teacher center advisory committee members and all affirmed that the cooperative is very sensitive to local district needs and when necessary find or secure resources and materials to meet those identified needs. It was also noted that facilities and resources have expanded to meet the needs of students. Just this year a new facility was opened to provide additional staff office space, storage and meeting facilities, which have temporarily relieved some crowded workspace for the staff.

Needs have been identified in the content areas of mathematics and science with a focus at the secondary level. It was noted that an additional staff member was being employed to address the needs in science. Concern was expressed among the staff related to securing services from regional math and science specialists funded by the Department of Education.

There is a strong partnership with the University of Arkansas at Fort Smith for providing technical courses and some general education courses for high school students. The intent of this program is to provide high school students an opportunity to earn some college credits while still in high school with the hope of encouraging those students to continue a course of study after high school graduation.

It is noted that a very large portion of the programming is supported by grants from the Department of Education and/or other sources. To that extent considerable staff time is required to tend to grant writing and grant administration duties. This work reduces the time that staff members have to work specifically with area schools. However, it is noted without such funding programming would be severely limited.

This committee affirms that the programs offered meet and most often exceed expectations and requirements of the statutes.
Recommendations:

- Expand the high school opportunities to include content specialists for math, literacy and science. Continue to explore the availability of staff newly created in science by the State Department of Education and determine how these staff can help provide content expertise for regional teachers. Perhaps one way to do this would be to provide office space for these individuals at the cooperative and seek to have them assigned at least part time at this site.

- Provide additional professional development options for “job-alike” groups to work together and receive specifically designed training for those content areas.

- Continue to purchase additional technology that will allow the delivery of more professional development via distance learning. As more equipment becomes available in individual schools, more presentations originating from the cooperative might minimize teacher travel time to attend professional development sessions.

- Continue to explore options for distance learning for high school students in the area. Many of the other cooperatives initiate high school courses, many offered for college credit, which would be available to students in the area.

- Seriously evaluate the continuing value of the VHS delivery to schools with the idea of replacing that resource with a more current technology.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This sub-committee reviewed many documents related to financial management and reporting. Following interviews with the bookkeeping staff, the committee reports that this component of the cooperative’s management is well organized, seemingly efficient, and meets or exceeds state reporting and auditing requirements. Conversations with area superintendents confirm that regular financial reports are provided to the Board and Executive Committee in a timely manner.

The sub-committee observed that this staff does a commendable job in identifying and securing grant funding to supplement the minimal state appropriation for management and operation of the cooperatives.

Personnel documents were reviewed and are reflective of current employment and personnel practices. The committee notes the outstanding qualifications of the staff for the positions held. Many of the staff members have been employed with the cooperative for many years, some since its inception.

The committee affirms that the fiscal records and personnel policies are in keeping with accepted practices and are in excellent form. This area of the study meets or exceeds legislative standards.

Recommendations:

- Consider assimilating a committee to review and update the personnel handbook. It appears that it has been at least two years since this document was last reviewed.
- Explore a way to showcase the qualifications of staff employed by the cooperative. One way would be to identify programming and the qualifications of staff providing services.

In keeping with Arkansas Code, staff from Wilbur D. This self-study document was provided to the evaluation team along with baseline data as collected periodically by the cooperative staff.

Team Summaries

Historical Perspective and Governance

The Wilbur D. Mills Education Service Cooperative as established in 1985 is structured in accordance with Act 349. The Cooperative is named to honor the late Wilbur D. Mills an influential member of the United States House of Representatives from Arkansas. The Cooperative is governed by a board of directors, each member representing a local school district served by the Cooperative and appointed by that local board of directors. The Cooperative Board meets ten (10) times annually.

The Cooperative owns three buildings in downtown Beebe, which house the offices and conference facilities for the Cooperative staff.

The Cooperative has an exemplary working relationship with the higher education institutions located in the service region – Harding University and Arkansas State University at Beebe. These collaborative agreements support shared services and facilities to provide professional development for teachers and administrators throughout the service region.

Recommendations:

- Study the salary schedule and seek funding to establish a more competitive salary schedule. (The staff has experienced greater than usual vacancies due to local districts or the Department of Education paying higher salaries.)
- Continue to expand the number and size of meeting rooms to accommodate the increased demand for professional development.

Program

This sub-committee finds that the Wilbur D. Mills Education Service Cooperative Program component meets or exceeds the legislative intent as outlined in statutes and objectives set for programming by the Cooperative Board of Directors.

The Committee found that the ten plus major programs (literacy, mathematics, early childhood, career and technical, early childhood special education, gifted/talented, special education supervision, professional development, and technology, etc.) serve a wide range of needs as established by the schools, teachers, administrators, parents, and students served. The Committee noted that participants found services to be of high quality, directed to meeting needs and sufficient to meet the needs and interest of users of those services. The Committee specifically notes the variety and quality of professional development services provided and the collegial nature of work with higher education partners in the region. Specifically, during the summer 2006, the Cooperative provided 236 professional development workshops without cost to 15,250 participants who were seeking to meet the requirements for professional development as outlined by the Arkansas Department of Education.

The existing facilities are functional and serve the region well; however, there is a documented need for additional classroom space to provide distance learning and additional professional development sessions. For many years sessions have been conducted at Harding University during the summers. Due to expanded programs at Harding, those facilities are more difficult to schedule, thus the Cooperative will have to provide alternate sites for many sessions. Currently the regional mathematics and science service center on the Harding Campus provides a variety of services that will need to be expanded in coming years due to the increased Benchmark testing in science.

This Committee notes that State funding for cooperative services has not increased in several years. This means that programs and extended services must be provided through grants or pooled resources from the local districts.

Recommendations:

- Continue to explore options for additional space for professional development and distance learning sessions.

- Work with the other regional cooperatives to seek expanded state resources, thus minimizing the always-urgent need to write and submit grants for funds to provide services.

- Continue to support the collaboration with higher education institutions and to utilize services and resources of the University to meet professional development needs of teachers and administrators.

Fiscal Management, Budget and Personnel

This sub-committee reviewed the fiscal and personnel requirements as stated in statute and the self-study documents as prepared by staff in preparation for the evaluation and visit also interviews with the director, bookkeeper and other management team members. This Committee notes that the Cooperative has a highly qualified staff with a working board of directors. The professional staff is recognized as leaders in their areas across the state and some regionally.
Following the Committee's review of documents provided, interviews with staff, and a review of fiscal records including State audit reports, the Committee finds that the fiscal management and personnel management of the Wilbur D. Mills Education Service Cooperative meets or exceeds all statutory requirements for this area of study.

Recommendation:

- The Committee strongly supports work underway to increase base funding from the State so that services and on-going expenses can be maintained if not expanded to meet the documented needs of schools and participants in the region.

- Maintain continual evaluation of services provided so as to maximize work to meet documented needs and to discontinue, when necessary, areas of work that are not longer being utilized or are not specifically directed to meeting the needs of students.

T. Kenneth James, Ed.D.
Commissioner of Education
#4 State Capitol Mall
Little Rock, AR 72201

Dear Dr. James,

As you are aware, Senator Irma Hunter Brown and Representative Wilhelmina Lewellen of Little Rock sponsored Act 917 of 2007 of the 86th General Assembly to appropriate funds to encourage statewide student participation in the 50th Central High School Anniversary. We are excited that all students in the state of Arkansas will have an opportunity to participate in the Little Rock Central High 1957-2007 Commemoration through involvement in statewide literacy and art activities.

With the nation’s eyes focused once again on Little Rock Central High School, there will be significant media coverage of the dedication of the Central High School Visitors’ Center on September 24th and the commemoration ceremonies on the campus of Central High School on September 25th. Over 5,000 visitors are ticketed to attend the September 25th ceremony, and with the Secret Service involvement in the planning, we expect that President Bush and former President Clinton will likely be in attendance.

Based on the recommendations of the principal, the citywide planning committee, and the advance security teams who have been involved in planning for this historic event, we made the decision several months ago to close Central High School to students on September 24th and 25th, 2007. This letter is respectfully submitted as a request for your consideration of a waiver of student attendance at Central High School on these two days. Without benefit of the waiver, students would be required to attend school an additional two days after other LRSD schools are dismissed for the year.

Students at Central High School will certainly be participating in the statewide contests as specified in Act 917 of 2007, but will also be exposed to opportunities over the next several months to become more intensively active in educational activities and events with historical emphasis on the significance of the 1957 – 2007 commemoration. In addition, every student at Central will be required to complete a graded assignment which is directly related to the 1957 crisis or the 2007 commemoration. We believe the two day waiver will serve as an incentive for students to participate in this additional opportunity to become a part of history.

Your consideration of this request for a waiver of two student attendance days at Central High School is respectfully requested.

Sincerely,

Linda Watson, Ed.D.
Interim Superintendent of Schools

Dear Dr. James,

As we discussed last week, the LRSD administration made the decision several months ago to close Central High School to students on September 24th and 25th, 2007, in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the integration of that school. We submitted a letter requesting your consideration of a waiver of student attendance at Central High on those two days. Without benefit of the waiver, students will be required to attend school an additional two days after other LRSD schools are dismissed for the year.

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the LRSD was held on Thursday, September 13, 2007. At that meeting the board voted to support the administration’s recommendation to seek a waiver from the Arkansas Department of Education for these two student attendance days at Central High School.

Your consideration of this request is respectfully requested.

Sincerely,

4.0 Selection Criteria and Requirements in Considering the Application for Rewarding Excellence in Achievement Program
